

The True Value...

If your aim is to make fistfuls of cash this summer, working at summer camp may not be the place for you. Of course, you will be compensated fairly, but the true compensation you obtain while working at camp comes from the leadership, communication and organizational skills you will carry with you later on in life. No job will push you further, challenge you and reward you like a summer at camp. Your truest, most loving friends will be made when you spend a summer working at CYJ. At the end of the day you go home with a nice pay check and a tool box full of skills to apply in your everyday life...OH YA...and you will have helped change young lives forever!!
